MARCH 2025

Don't Forget To Set Your Clocks Forward Sunday, March 9th

Daylight Saving Time (DST) exists to maximize the use of natural daylight during the summer months, essentially giving people more daylight hours in the evening by "shifting" the clock forward one hour, which can potentially lead to energy savings by reducing the need for artificial light during peak hours

The most up to date lake level information can be viewed at shastalake.com

Looking for a ST. Patrick's Day dish? Try this Super Greens recipe!

Super Greens Recipe: A light and zesty blend of broccoli, kale, and cabbage kissed with sauce.

Ingredients

- 6 cups roughly chopped kale lightly packed
- 4 cups broccoli florets
- 4 cups roughly chopped green cabbage
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1-2 cloves minced garlic
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/4-1/2 teaspoon crushed red peppers
- 6 tablespoons water

Instructions

- using a large sauté pan (with a lid) over medium-high heat. Add the butter, garlic, ground ginger, and crushed red pepper. Once the butter melts sauté the garlic for 1 minute, then add in the soy sauce and water.
- Add the broccoli first, then the cabbage and the kale on top. Cover the sauté pan and steam the vegetables for 3-4 minutes. The broccoli should still be firm, not soft in the middle.
- Toss the vegetables to coat in sauce. Serve warm.

March through April is the time to get your cool-season vegetables in the ground

Common cool-season vegetables: asparagus, beets, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, chives, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, Swiss chard, kale, leek, lettuce, onion, parsnips, peas, radishes, spinach, and turnips.

Happy St. Patrick's Day!

The tale of the "pot of gold at the end of the rainbow" is primarily rooted in Irish folklore, where it's said that leprechauns, mischievous fairy-like creatures, hide their pots of gold at the end of rainbows, making it an impossible treasure to find due to the rainbow's elusive nature. Since a rainbow has no actual end, it symbolizes the impossibility of reaching the pot of gold. So now all you need to do is catch a leprechaun to discover the location of their gold. Don't forget to find a four-leaf clover for good luck. Also, wear green so leprechauns can't see you and you don't get pinched by family, friends or random strangers. ☺

How ever you choose to spend your St. Patrick's day please be safe and have fun!
